OUR TIMELESS LIBATIONS

Amaretto Sour

350

Amaretto, Syrup, Lime Juice

The "Amaretto" part of the story begins in Saronno, Italy. As the legend goes, a beautiful young innkeeper served as the model for the Virgin Mary in a fresco by artist Bernardino Luini, a student of Leonardo da Vinci. As a token of her gratitude and affection, she crafted history's first amaretto—a flask of amber liqueur made by steeping apricot kernels in brandy.

An Amaretto Sour is a classic sweet-and-tart cocktail featuring Italian Amaretto (an almond-flavor liqueur), famous for flavours of marzipan, balanced by citrus.

Mai Tai

Samui Rum, Dark Rum, Orange Liqueur,
Lime Juice, Orane Juice, Orgeat Syrup

The Mai Tai was created in Oakland, California, by Victor J. Bergeron, better known as Trader Vic, aiming to showcase the flavor of a rare 17-year-old rum.

He served the first edition to two friends visiting from Tahiti, Ham and Carrie Guild. Upon taking a sip, Carrie reportedly exclaimed, "Maita'i roa a'e!" which translates to, "Out of this world—the best!" Vic shortened the phrase and named the drink "Mai Tai".

Aperol Spritz

Aperol, Prosecco, Singha Soda Water

The Aperol Spritz originated from a 20th-century tradition where Austrian soldiers in Northern Italy diluted local wines with sparkling water, later evolving into a cocktail when the citrusy-bitter Aperol liqueur was launched in 1919 by Luigi and Silvio Barbieri in Padua.

OUR TIMELESS LIBATIONS

Bloody Mary

350

Smirnoff Vodka, Tomato Juice, Lime Juice, Black Pepper, Worcestershire Sauce, Salt, Tabasco, Celery

The Bloody Mary was likely created in the 1920s by bartender Fernand Petitot at Harry's New York Bar in Paris, combining vodka with spiced tomato juice.

Negroni

350

Sanaha Gin, Campari, Sweet Vermouth

The Negroni originated in Florence, Italy, around 1919 at Caffè Casoni (now Caffè Giacosa), when Count Camillo Negroni asked bartender Fosco Scarselli to strengthen his Americano (Campari, vermouth, soda) by replacing soda with gin.

The iconic, equal-parts cocktail was garnished with orange to distinguish it.

Martini

360

Gordon's Dry Gin, Dry Vermouth

The classic martini, a cocktail defined by its simple elegance and evolving dryness, likely originated in the late 19th century from the "Martinez" cocktail, a sweeter mix of Old Tom gin, sweet vermouth, and bitters.

It grew in popularity through the 20th century, becoming a symbol of mid-century sophistication, particularly through pop culture, before evolving from a sweet, aromatic drink to the dry, gin-forward version favored today.

Whiskey Sour

360

Jim Beam, Orange Liqueur, Lime Juice, Syrup

Originating on the high seas, the whiskey sour was first created by 18th-century British sailors, who mixed spirits with citrus to fight scurvy. In the late 1800s, it became popular in the US with variations like the egg-white "Boston Sour" and the red wine-floated "New York Sour".

Gimlet

350

Gin, Lime Juice, Syrup

The Gimlet is a classic 19th-century cocktail, originally created as a medicinal mixture of gin and Rose's Lime Cordial for British Royal Navy sailors

Pisco Sour

350

Pisco, Lime Juice, Syrup, Angostura Bitters

The Pisco Sour is a classic cocktail born in the 1920s in Lima, Peru, created by American bartender Victor Morris at his "Morris Bar".

Boulevardier

360

Silver Knight 8 Years. Whiskey,
Sweet Vermouth, Campari

A kid of the roaring twenties - a Parisian classic.

French 75

360

Gordon's Dry Gin, Lime Juice, Syrup, Prosecco

The drink was named for the French 75mm field gun, as the combination of gin and champagne was said to have a kick as powerful as the artillery weapon.

Gin Basil Smash

370

Gordon's Dry Gin, Basil, Mint, Lime,
Sugar Syrup

The Gin Basil Smash was created in July 2008 by German bartender Jörg Meyer at his bar, Le Lion in Hamburg.

Hugo Spritz

390

Prosecco, Singha Soda, Mints,
Elderflower Syrup

The Hugo Spritz was created in 2005 by bartender Roland Gruber in Northern Italy. Intended as a light, floral alternative to the bitter Aperol Spritz
